	The Durham Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered and held its first official meeting in June of 1938. The Palms Restaurant on Chapel Hill Street was the first established meeting legation. Weedly Weedly was the chapter's first President. Initial membership was 41 people: annual dues were $12. Meetings were later moved to the Jack Tar Hotel. Meals at monthly meetings were $.50. In 1939 the chapter began to meet twice a month; the second meeting was a lunch which cost $.35. In 1940, an initiation fee of $2 was established. Meetings were later set for the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of the month at 6pm, where they remained until January 1999.

The Durham Junior Chamber was formed as an organization with the purpose of personal development and community improvement, for young men 18 to 36. The 41 charter members grew to a club of 67 by the end of 1938, and by 1941 membership was over 100. The 1950's saw the club grow to over 200 members. In 1954, J.B. Brame , local President in 1949-50, was elected President of the North Carolina State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In the 1960's, the chapter experienced many changes. Membership fell below 200, and the National and State organizations voted to change the name of the club to "Jaycees". The Durham Jaycees were not far behind in adopting the new name. The U.S. Supreme court disallowed racial discrimination and the Durham Jaycees welcomed Asa Spaulding, the first African American member.

Biographical/Historical Note:

In 1972, chapter meetings were moved to the Downtowner, then to the Holiday Inn West, Holiday Inn Downtown, and back to the Downtowner in 1975. Membership rose to above 200 again through the efforts of strong chapter leadership. The chapter lost Griffin Averett , a dedicated and local member, to a serious illness. In his honor, the chapter's Jaycee of the Year Award was named the Charles Griffin Averett Award.

In 1984 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that women shall be eligible for membership in the United States Jaycees. The same year Durham Jaycees welcomed Carol Teal as the first female member. In 1987 the age requirement changed to 21 to 40. In 1988 the chapter relocated its meetings to the Sheraton University Center on Morreene Road in West Durham. That year the club celebrated its 50th anniversary. The event was marked by a banquet honoring all past Durham Jaycees. Also in this decade, the Durham Jaycees' Reich Welborn, another past local president, served as the State President.

In 1990, the first –ever female candidate for Chapter President was Margaret Cox Griffin, who ran in the first contested election in ten years. Membership in the club approached 150, and women now make up a strong percentage of both membership and leadership. In 1991 Nancy Ellen Brown was elected the first female President of the Durham Jaycees.

Earlier materials indicated three goals: community development, individual development, and management development. During the 1940s and 1950s the organization became involved in philanthropy; in the 1960s and 1970s the Jaycees held fundraisers for construction of the Durham Civic Center, created the first recycling effort in Durham and helped to start what is now the July 4th Festival at the Eno.

Condition Notes:

Glue often used in collection.

Organization of Collection:

Boxes 1 - 6 contain Administrative materials that are internal to the organization. Boxes 1 - 4 contain Chapter Plans, Year End Reports and Member Orientation materials arranged chronologically. Chapter Plans most often consist of that year's planned programs, organization manual, budget, directory and some meeting minutes and correspondence. Names in italics are transcribed directly from original binders. Groupings from award entry folders have been maintained. Also arranged chronologically, box 5 contains financial materials and boxes 5 - 7 contain minutes and materials from various meetings (Board of Directors, Membership, Executive Committee and Mid-Summer Board). Original order is largely maintained for these materials; there are several large gaps in the chronology. Minutes are accompanied by substantiating financial and member information.

Box 7 contains Correspondence arranged by subject or recipient. Items that were separated by subject have been maintained for the most part and original file names are used if possible. Within folders items are arranged chronologically.

Boxes 8 - 12 contain materials related to Durham Jaycees Projects and events. Most projects fit into one of the Jaycees areas of emphasis though the terms used may change over the years. The area of emphasis (or "classification") is noted first followed by a colon and the title of the project or event (i.e. "Community Development: Meet the Candidates"). Groupings from award entry folders have been maintained. The materials have been arranged chronologically.

Boxes 13 - 14 (large boxes) contain three scrapbooks.
