Durham County Library invites you to our community event to learn more about prostate cancer, early detection, and what it's really like to face this disease.

Our featured presenter, Terry Hill, will share his powerful journey as a prostate cancer survivor. From diagnosis and treatment to recovery and advocacy. Terry's story highlights the importance of early screening, resilience through challenge, and the impact prostate cancer can have on individuals and families.

Tracy Hill, Terry's wife and partner, offers a caregiver's perspective on supporting a loved one through diagnosis, treatment, and beyond. Her insights will shed light on the emotional and practical role that caregivers play in the cancer journey.

This event is open to all who want to learn more about prostate cancer, including men and families seeking knowledge, survivors looking for connection, and community members committed to supporting health education.
